BRITISH GOVT.
MOVES TO END
'DISOBEDIENCE'Arrest of Gandhi, Hindu
Leader, Is Reported To Be Imminent

Bombay, India, April 14. —(AP)—Striking hard in defense of its sovereignty in India the British government today took into custody leaders in the Indian nationalist "civil disobedience" movement captained by Mahatma Gandhi himself was not molested.

Of importance, however, and almost tantamount to arrest of Gandhi, was the incarceration, and sentence a few hours later of Jawaharlal Nehru, president of the All-India National Congress. Nehru was sent to prison for six months after conviction on a charge of violation of the salt act Friday.

He was arrested at Cheeki station and temporarily detained in Naini provincial jail, both places near Allahabad. News of his arrest spread like wildfire through Bombay, and within a few minutes the cotton, bullion, seeds and share markets suspended business.

Sixteen persons were arrested at Lucknow, United Provinces, for offenses against the salt laws. They included Mohanlal Saxena, Chief Executive Officer of the National Congress; and Imitlal Ahmed, president of the local Congress committee, and several other Congress officials.

The correspondent of the London Daily Mail here cabled his paper that arrest of Gandhi was imminent, and that the government, alarmed at the rapid spread of his movement, and growing animosity of Hindus toward the British, had determined to take a more vigorous action with reference to him.

Day of Silence. Gandhi himself was at Dandi today. This was his periodical day of silence during which he speaks not a word. He was understood to have written his wife at Ahmadabad asking that she lead a group of women in a movement to encourage picketing by the women outside the liquor shops.

Mayor J. M. San Gupta, and four students who were arrested at Calcutta Saturday for reading seditious literature to a gathering in support of the civil disobedience campaign, were sentenced to six months rigorous imprisonment.

Appellate Court
Reverses Co. Court

The Appellate Court has decided that H. R. Winchester, LeRoy McDermott and Nemoran Pierre of Lee County are not guilty of the liquor violations on which they were tried and found guilty in the County Court last summer. The verdict of the Appellate Court is that the decisions in all three of the cases be reversed on the grounds of technicalities, defective information.

Winchester has been charged with possession and sale of alcoholic liquor, McDermott with sale and Pierre with possession and they were each sentenced to 60 days in the county jail and fined $250. They gave bonds pending appeal and are now absolved from guilt according to the court decision. Atty. Sherwood Dixon represented the defendants.

Mrs. Margaret Conley
Passed Away Saturday

Mrs. Margaret English Conley, for 69 years a resident of Lee County, passed away at her home, 420 Third street at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. She was born in Clifden-by-the-sea, County Galway, Ireland, in 1843, the sixth child of Michael King English and Honore O'Malley English. In 1870, she married Peter F. Conley of Amboy, a former Congressman.

Of the six children, Hannah and George are deceased. Joseph resides in Seattle, Wash., John in Los Angeles, Cal., and Agnes and Esther are at home. There are five grandchildren, Lucile, Mildred, Mary, Josephine, Arthur and Paul.

Requiem mass will be celebrated at St. Patrick's Catholic church at 9:30 Tuesday morning with burial at Rockford cemetery near Amboy. There is a request that there be no flowers.

Crosswise Riding
Of Streets Taboo

Evanston, Ill., April 14. —(AP)—Mr. August Woltman, who rides a bicycle, has been fined $50 for doing so while intoxicated. Woltman used to drive an automobile, but more recently he has transported himself bicyclically. One thing the police did not approve was Woltman's practice of riding crosswise of the streets instead of lengthwise. Judge Samuel Harrison ordered payment of the fine yesterday.

The Evanston bicycle traffic laws are unusually strict. Not so long ago a butler in the employ of former Vice President Dawes got into trouble because he didn't have a red tail light on his bike. In that case, however, the question of sobriety was not involved, and Jenkins — for the butler's name was indeed Jenkins — was freed with nothing worse than a warning.

To Be Distributed
In Lee County

Lee county is to receive a large consignment of pheasant eggs from the State Department of Conservation for distribution this spring as a part of the program to propagate these birds, which was undertaken by the local chapter of the Izaak Walton League and through the cooperation of the State Department of Conservation, has been very successful. State Conservation Inspector Henry Keister has informed President Louis Knick of the local Izaak Walton League Chapter of the plan to place large numbers of eggs in Lee county to be hatched out this spring.

At present about 60 applications for settings of these eggs have been turned over to Inspector Keister, and these have been forwarded to the headquarters at Springfield. The eggs will be supplied from the state game farms together with complete directions for raising and feeding the small pheasants. President Knick of the Izaak Walton League Chapter has taken a great interest in securing both eggs and live birds which have been distributed about the county. Persons desiring settings of these eggs will give their names and addresses to either President Knick or to Inspector Henry Keister. It is urged that this be done at once as the eggs are now available and many have already made application.

FIND TRACE OF
PROPERTY TAKEN
AT SCHOLL HOMEAuthorities Now Think
Robbery Week Ago
Work Of Tramp

The first trace of any of the articles stolen from the Roy Scholl farm home one week ago Sunday, was found yesterday morning by Ben Lawver, farm hand employed at the farm and was reported immediately to Sheriff Ward Miller. Lawver had gone to Rock river fishing and in the heavy timber west of the Hubbard farm along Rock river found traces of the stolen articles. Jewel cases and small boxes were found in the bottom of a creek. The lids had been ripped off while the contents were being removed and the original containers tossed into the stream.

A bucket containing 52 eggs was found at the base of a tree, some grass having been placed over the top. A .22 caliber German-made rifle had been hidden in a tree. Canned fruit and other articles were scattered about on the river bank, which led to the belief that the thief spent several hours less than half a mile from the scene of his operations, sorting over the loot and destroying all of the property he did not desire.

The finding of the stolen property led to the belief that the robbery was committed by a tramp, probably past middle-age and possibly feeble minded. In the investigation following the robbery of the Scholl home one week ago Sunday night, the ransacking of two school houses near Dixon was developed, neither of which had been reported to the Sheriff's office.

It is presumed that the same man who robbed the Scholl farm home, spent almost all of Sunday one week ago in the Hill school southwest of Dixon on the Rock Island road, and that he left the building in the evening, walking west until he reached the Scholl farm, where he ransacked every room in the house. A small memorandum book found in an old burial sack containing loot removed from the Hill school, which had been thrown on the Northwestern right of way just north of the Scholl farm, bore the name of an eleven-old-boy.

By tracing this name Sheriff Miller was able to learn that the Hill school on the river road east of Dixon was entered and ransacked two weeks ago, and here there was evidence that the thief had remained several hours. Before taking his departure, he had attempted to burn the building by piling hot ashes from the furnace beneath a book case and throwing lighted cigarette stubs between wooden partitions. Every desk in the school was ransacked and several articles taken. The robbery of both of the schools and the Scholl farm are believed to have been the work of the same party, according to Sheriff Miller.

Dance In Reynolds
Is Scene Of Fight

Three DeKalb men were lodged in the county jail Sunday morning about 4 o'clock as the result of an alleged fight which was staged at the Andrew Bergeson farm home in Reynolds township on route 70 about the midnight hour. The trio were said to have entered the house where a dance was in progress and resented being called "crickets."

Deputies Danekas of Reynolds and Ross of Compton were summoned when fists began to fly and rounded up the three, bringing them to Dixon. They were arraigned before Justice J. O. Shaulis and assessed fines of $10 and costs each on charges of being intoxicated and disorderly. Friends of the trio were arranging to pay their fines today. It was also expected that Andrew Bergeson would be arrested on a charge of operating a public dance without a license.

INCREASED FUND
TO STOP JEWELS
SMUGGLING ASKEDCustoms Bureau Would Increase Number Of Agents Abroad

By CECIL OWEN

United Press Staff Correspondent
Washington, April 14. —(UP)—Increased smuggling of diamonds, other valuable stones and merchandise worth millions into this country each year by foreign rings has caused the Treasury Department to request additional funds for placing customs agents abroad, it was learned today.

Estimates of the volume of diamond smuggling range in value from $20,000,000 to $40,000,000 annually. Deputy Customs Commissioner Frank Dow said today. Fairly approximate figures are obtainable for diamonds because the world production and legitimate sales are known.

Estimate Lacking
In the case of other jewelry, merchandise and narcotics, of which several tons are smuggled here annually, definite estimates are lacking. Customs officials believe it is extremely large. Jewelers believe watches worth $9,000,000 are entering this country yearly without paying duty.

Plans for increasing the staff of customs special agents abroad have been outlined to the Budget Bureau by Assistant Treasury Secretary Lowman and Commissioner of Customs Frank X. A. Eble. The Customs Bureau now maintains only 26 agents abroad.

If the Budget Bureau approves the Treasury's request, the needed funds are expected to be appropriated by Congress in the second deficiency bill soon to be placed on the legislative calendar.

Better Check-up

With the additional agents abroad, the Treasury, Dow said, would be in a better position to apprehend smugglers as it would enable a closer check-up on foreign sources of smuggled articles.

Merchandising houses in this country are backing the Treasury's demand because they realize smugglers annually cost them immense sums. The smuggled articles are placed on the market at low prices in competition with duty-taxed goods.

Passage of the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill with its high rates on many industrial and commercial products is expected by customs officials to offer new temptation to smugglers to evade the duties. Jewelers have for time been asking a 50 per cent cut in the diamond rate. They contend the existing 20 per cent duty causes increased smuggling.

Killed Because He Refused Big Bribe

Washington, April 14. —(UP)—Evidence that Lamar W. York, Federal prohibition agent, lost his life because he would not take a bribe was before police today as they questioned with the murder. The agent was shot to death early Saturday after he tried to arrest the two.

The Negroes, John Logan and John Borum, denied shooting York, although Logan, according to police, admitted he was present when York was shot.

York stopped the two early Saturday as they were delivering liquor. They jumped from the automobile and escaped. Soon afterwards they sent York an offer of $50 to release the automobile. He refused. The Negroes went to him in person and raised their offer to $100. York declined that and sought to place the men under arrest. It was then police say that one of the Negroes drew his gun and shot York.

"MAN IN GREY CAP" SOUGHT FOR

A meager description of Miss Baker's companion of Friday night was given by three persons who said they saw the pair arguing in the girl's automobile near the Washington Monument.

Played His Hunch:
Caught Rum Runner

New York, April 14. —(UP)—The submarine chaser, Junior Annapolis, its crew of seven, and 2,000 sacks of liquor were in custody of the Customs Department today because Deputy Surveyor John H. McGill, head of the department, believes in playing his "hunches."

Early yesterday a Customs Patrol boat was proceeding in the fog off Rockaway Point, L. I., looking for a rum runner. It found one, and a few shots brought it heaving to with its contraband cargo. One of the customs officers looked at his watch and found it was shortly after 3 A. M. the exact time when McGill had told him to watch for the boat. It was queer he thought, but a good tip.

McGill said he had heard three stations broadcasting "Three O'clock in the Morning" early Sunday, and as two of them were American and the other Canadian, decided something was due to come from Canada. It bothered McGill and after he retired he dreamed he saw a ship chaser passing a long projecting point of land.

Awakening, he ordered the patrol boat to search for a rum runner, and the capture resulted.

Of Miss Livingston

New York, April 14. —(AP)—Belle Livingston, whose statuesque beauty made her famous as a chorus girl in the pink tights of the '20s, was free under bail today after a federal prohibition agent had sung his way into her exclusive Park Avenue "Salon."

Miss Livingston, whose husbands have included a Count and a couple of millionaires, returned from Europe two years ago and opened a "Salon of Culture, Wit and Bonhomie."

After spending 10 hours in a police station call, Miss Livingston described the raid yesterday morning. "No more tenor," she declared fervently, "and some of my best friends are tenors."

The individual who inspired her distrust in tenors was a prohibition agent. She explained, who sang "Mother Macree," "A Little Gray Home in the West," "Daddy, Don't Go Down in the Mine Today," and other ballads. He was there Thursday and returned with five others yesterday shortly after midnight.

"The raid was a scream," she said. "The most important nobleman now in America was there. The cream of New York's debutantes were sitting around. Then I saw six strange men standing in the door."

"One of them stepped forward and started wrenching at the cupboard door. It upset me. I called John Gills, our old regime bartender, and said 'John, don't let those gentlemen wrench at that door. Get them keys at once!'"

"The federal men found a great deal of liquor in the cupboard."

Miss Livingston and three men described as bartenders were arrested.

The three—a married couple and been revealed—told police they heard Miss Baker shriek and saw her companion strike her before the automobile sped away.

Police believe the couple drove to Rosslyn, Va., across the Potomac river. Residents of the Rosslyn district said they heard a couple quarreling. Soon afterward, the automobile sped toward the Arlington Cemetery.

Resident of Rosslyn declare they then heard two loud reports. Next day Miss Baker's body and her blood-stained automobile were found.

ENMITY OVER
BOOZE RAIDS
HELD REASONJanqua County, Wis. consin, Former Officer is Accused

Mauston, Wis., April 14. —(UP)—A trail of blood that ended at his home caused a murder charge to be prepared today against Lyall T. Wright, ousted "Boy Sheriff" of Juneau County, accusing him of the slaying last night of District Attorney Clinton G. Price.

The murder warrant was drawn up by Orlando S. Loomis, special prosecutor, after Captain William H. McCormick of the Madison police department reported finding the shotgun used in the assassination of Price as he stood talking to his wife in the kitchen of his home.

Wright was taken into custody when he appeared on the street with a bandaged hand, which investigators believe was injured in an attempt to unfasten the chain on the bloodstained coat found adrift in the Lemon Weir river in the rear of the District Attorney's home.

Enmity Was Known.
Enmity, known to exist between the 30-year-old former Sheriff and Price, avowed enemy of bootleggers, grew out of liquor raids personally conducted by the District Attorney.

Wright was the federal government's chief witness in the recent prosecution of Price on a charge of conspiracy to protect liquor manufacturers. The District Attorney was acquitted.

A plea of guilty to a similar charge was entered by Wright and he was sentenced last Friday to eight months imprisonment and $500 fine. He was to have begun his sentence this week.

Shortly after Price was fatally wounded by five shotgun slugs that had been fired through the screen door, police detectives picked up a trail of blood that led from the point where a boat had been wrenched from its chain.

Follow Trail of Blood.

The boat, bloodstained, was later found adrift in the river. Across the Lemon Weir other bloodspots were discovered in a boat house and the shotgun used in the murder was picked up.

From the boathouse the police followed the blood trail to Wright's home. He refused to discuss the injury of his hand without first talking to an attorney.

Wright told a newspaper reporter that he "was there and saw Price killed, but I did not do it."

HOME INSTINCT
NO DOUBT the sparrow in thicket often yearns—That, like the eagle, it could soar on silent wing—Until it hears its mate deep in the bush and learns That it is best to perch upon a twig and sing.

Perhaps the eagle, circling, wide against the skies,
Gives thought that it would like to scratch among the leaves—
When, on some distant crag above the clouds, it spies
A rambling ruck of sticks—the nest to which it cleaves.

Illinois Parent-Teachers Congress To Meet Tomorrow

Evanston, Ill., April 14—(AP)—Repeating the history of 31 years ago, the Illinois Congress of parents and teachers will meet here tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday with a program on which many nationally known educators and civic workers will appear.

Thirty-years ago, the Illinois congress of Parents and Teachers was organized in this place under the leadership of Mrs. Roger McMullen, as the Illinois Congress of Mothers. At the initial convention, the fledgling society was given the inspiration which has carried it through the past years by such leaders as Mrs. Theodore McBurney, president of the national congress of parents and teachers, Col. Francis W. Parker, president of the Chicago Normal College, Judge Harvey D. Hurd Judge Richard S. Tuttle Mrs. Marian Foster Washburne, mother of Carleton Washburne, of Winnetka; Emily Huntington Miller, of the Northwestern University; and Mrs. Andrew McLeish.

Throughout the years that have been seen the Illinois Congress of Mothers grow from the small group that assembled in Evanston to the present membership of 125,000 and have seen the name changed to the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, the society has sustained its original purpose of improving the educational and civic advantages in Illinois.

Mr. Lies Delivered Inspiring Lecture Saturday to Club

Eugene L. Lies of Chicago delivered a very interesting lecture on playground and recreation work at Saturday's meeting of the Dixon Woman's Club.

Mr. Lies used as his subject "Youth and Play," explaining in a most interesting manner the importance of recreation along with work and of the important part both have in character building of the people of today. The humorous stories which Mr. Lies told in connection with his lecture added greatly to the interest of his audience. Mr. Lies urges that we practice all that science gives us in making this a day for organizing and coordinating interest in child health.

Two of Dixon's charming young people, Misses Alice Street and Helen Marth played very pretty piano solos which were very much enjoyed.

This program was in charge of the Child Welfare and Public Health Dept. of which Mrs. Thomas is chairman.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses in charge during the social hour.

The Dixon Woman's Club has been asked to donate jellies and jams in the form of an Easter shower to the World War veterans at Elgin. These disabled soldiers appreciate this act so much and it is sincerely hoped that all of the members will donate at least one glass of jelly or jam for this purpose. All who wish to do this may leave their donation with Miss Decker sometime before or on Thursday.

Eleanor Post Hutton Bride Preston Sturges

New York, April 14—(AP)—Eleanor Post Hutton, 20, heiress granddaughter of the late C. W. Post, cereal manufacturer, was on a runaway honeymoon today as the bride of Preston Sturges, play-wright.

The romance between the debutante and the author of "Strictly Dishonorable" of the season's Broadway hints, has been known in society circles for several weeks as well as the fact of the opposition of Miss Hutton's parents. It was also known that she was determined to marry, with or without their consent.

Miss Hutton was presented to society in 1927. In 1928 she was one of eight American women presented at the Court of St. James.

Mr. Sturges is in his early thirties. He has been married before.

British Girl, 23, Enters London Building Trade

London—(AP)—Margaret Mercer, a 23-year-old blonde is the latest addition to the ranks of the building trade in London.

Margaret has just passed her final examinations at the London County Council School of Building at Brixton, where she was one of two women students among 1,300 men.

"Women seem to have more or less free access to everything except building," she said. "Everybody has said that my ambition to be a builder, as my father and grandfather before me, was a peculiar ambition, but I simply can't see it."

She admits that there are a few snags in feminine pursuit of the practical work of the trade—brick-laying, painting, and plumbing. So she is content to remain in the executive and directive end of the work.

Portland, Me., April 14—(AP)—The Portland Evening Express said that Pauline Frederick, thrice-married and divorced stage and screen star, and Hugh Chisholm Leighton, former Portland resident and President of the Interstate News Company of New York, would be married some time this month.

The couple had planned to marry here, the newspaper said, but unforeseen circumstances prevented the wedding.

A RECORD OF COURAGE.

The human race commits follies enough, day by day, to justify the formation of whole battalions of pessimists; but every now and then it also does something that demands whole-hearted admiration.

In Baltimore there is a doctor named Frederick Henry Baetjer. He has been a famous X-ray scientist for 30 years. His studies have helped enormously in the use of X-rays in medicine; a great many people are alive and in good health now who would have been dead if it had not been for Dr. Baetjer.

But all of this has cost him something. He has been a repeated victim of the deadly, painful X-ray burns, which attack the scientists occasionally when experiments are carried on too enthusiastically. He has suffered so much, in fact, that he has had 52 operations. One of his eyes is gone. He has lost seven fingers. He has undergone repeated skin-grafts. He has suffered intense pain. His life has been despaired of repeatedly.

But he refuses to be frightened, refuses to give up his work, refuses even to lose his good spirits. He returns to his work after each operation, and seems to feel that his life is as pleasant as any man's might be.

Now a little story like this of Dr. Baetjer goes far to offset the daily chronicling of lunacies and cruelties that our newspaper front pages are obliged to furnish us.

It bespeaks something in human nature that is supremely unselfish, daring and unconquerable. As long as men like this Baltimore doctor can live, no one needs to despair of the race.

We need stories like that. There are times when the most optimistic of men, surveying the race's activities in all their manifestations, from naval disarmament conferences to Chicago gang murders, is justified in growing discouraged; times when it seems as if man's capacity for stupidity and evil is so stupendous that there is no use hoping for anything very fine from the future.

But that isn't a complete picture. Side by side with the ugly round of daily news there are stories like this one. The human race must, after all, have some relationship with the divinity it dreams of when it can produce such a man.

You can look on either side of the picture that you choose, of course. But there's no reason why you shouldn't believe that the side represented by Dr. Baetjer isn't the side that really means the most.

THE CASE OF LIEUTENANT WILLIAMS.

Every American who is interested in aviation—and very likely that includes practically all of us—is bound to feel a great deal of admiration for Alford J. Williams, the brilliant navy flyer who is resigning his commission as lieutenant because he does not want to undertake a period of sea duty, as the Navy Department desires him to do.

However, it is a little bit hard to see why he should be retired with the rank of captain, by congressional action, as a congressman recently proposed.

The Navy Department, undoubtedly, is quite correct in its assertion that this action would be very bad for morale among other naval flyers. After all, the navy has a great many very skillful and daring aviators on its rosters; to single out Lieutenant Williams for such extreme preference would hardly tend to make them satisfied with their present positions.

Great Britain wishes it could like Gandhi, take the Indian situation with a grain of salt.

Wonder if ex-Senator George Wharton Pepper is jealous at the publicity salt is receiving these days.

Richard Halliburton, the author, is endorsing a certain brand of coffee. It is assumed he won't say in his testimonial that he likes it because it keeps him awake to write.

A film was roughly handled by censors in England and Austria because there was a scene in which a white man kissed a Chinese girl. One can only speculate what impression the picture will have on Russian censors.

A headline in an Indiana paper read: "Freshwater Resigns from Shower Brothers." There must have been a leak somewhere.

An author tells of the exciting experiences he had in hunting the tsessebe, the lechwe and the sitatunga. He's probably the sort of fellow we would go into a rage hunting a lost collar button.

A Chicago woman gave such a lecture to a man she found robbing her house recently that he broke down and cried. It was, indeed, an occasion for holdup racket tears.

The farmer folks were leading a sigh. "This weather makes us could browse. The Travel Man walked up to them and said, 'How do you do! I've brought this band of Tynmites out to your farm to see the sights. If you will let them roam I will be much obliged to you.'"

The farmer man said, "Certainly! The little lads can come with me. I'll show them everything we have and give them milk to drink." So, to the milk barn they all ran and there they found a great big can of milk and Scouty said, "This is the best I've had, I think."

They drank and drank and drank until each Tynmite had had his fill. And then they roamed around the farm until they grew tired out. Soon, Clown said, "For goodness sake, how can you fellows keep awake? Why, I could go to sleep while standing up, without a doubt."

They found a green spot right nearby and flopped down on it with a sigh. "This weather makes us sleepy," wailed tired Scouty, with a grin. "If I were home by my soft bed, I know I'd rest my sleepy head. But this is quite a nice spot and I'm glad that we've turned in." They slept for quite a little while. Then each one woke up with a smile. "Let's go," exclaimed the Travel Man. "Our taxi still is here. There are some other things to see. Come on, lads, hop right in with me. And off they went as soon as Mister Driver switched in gear. Not far away they reached a place which brought a smile to every face. "Oh, look," exclaimed wee Copsy. "They are making wooden shoes. This ought to be a sight to see. They're just as busy as can be. But soon it will be quitting time. We have no time to lose."

(The Tynmites find a fine place to sleep in the next story.)

TITANTIC DISASTER

On April 14, 1912, the steamship Titanic, making its maiden trip from Southampton, England, to New York struck an iceberg off the Grand Banks of Newfoundland and sank with 2223 passengers and crew on board in what is called the greatest of sea disasters.

The Titanic, then the largest ship in the world, was trying for a speed record. Accompanied by fair weather and a calm sea, the big ship covered 1552 miles in its three days from port. Then, on the fourth night, at 11:40 o'clock, the collision occurred. A distress call was picked

DAILY LENTEN THOUGHT

BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of The Congregationalist

Why is it that almost everybody thinks of prayer in terms of receiving or getting, and so little in terms of giving?

In Paul's thought of prayer the deepest thing was gratitude; the note of thankfulness for what God had done. So it was that he burst out into such exultations as "Thanks be to God for His unspeakable gift." Or in admonishing the Christians to be "careful for nothing," urging them "with thanksgiving" to let their requests be made known to God.

It makes a very great difference in which spirit we pray. The spirit of those who think only of receiving, or the spirit of those who have discovered that it is more blessed to give than to receive. For these prayers become a means of real communion with God and a sharing of God's loving purposes.

The selfish thought of prayer is that of the spoiled child demanding things from a reluctant and grudging parent. Christian thought of prayer is that of one who thinks of God as a father of love willing to bestow everything that is good. The purpose of those who pray in the latter spirit is not to get things for themselves but to share in the plans and purposes that God has for all.

The League has passed the two-million mark in less than three short months of effort. Votes in defense of national culture still pour in.

We can never get the best that God intends for us without drawing near to the Father who intends the best for all.

CHILD HEALTH

By Agnes L. Rogers, Ph. D.
Bryn Mawr College,
Bryn Mawr, Pa.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illnesses. The headquarters of the Institute are at 2331 G. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

Parents who want to give their children the best possible care are often handicapped by not knowing just what is "best". So in answer to many question the following list has been made. It is worth memorizing, making a definite part of the family practice from the beginning of the child's life, and teaching him, so that by the time he is in the early grades he has learned that the child

1. Sleeps twelve hours every night with open window.
2. Bathes regularly.
3. Uses individual towel.
4. Wears proper clothing, removing day clothes and wearing night clothes at night.
5. Dresses and undresses himself morning and night.
6. Uses toilet at least once a day.
7. Washes hands after going to toilet.
8. Brushes teeth thoroughly morning and night.
9. Eats only at meals.
10. Drinks the proper quantity of milk and water daily.
11. Eats some fruit and vegetables every day.
12. Does not eat much candy.
13. Plays part of every day out of doors.
14. Avoids getting wet, wears rubbers, and removes damp clothing.
15. Goes directly home from school.
16. Is careful in crossing streets and boarding cars.
17. Goes very seldom to moving pictures.
18. Carries out directions of school nurse, doctor and teacher.
19. Has teeth examined by dentist every six months.
20. Is occasionally looked over by the family doctor.

Some of the above list should be practiced from the child's birth. Others can only be taught during the early years—always as soon as possible. But all should be thoroughly understood and habitually practiced by the time the child is in school. For these health habits do more than anything else to keep the well child well.

Editor's note: Do not forget that Thursday, May 1, is National Child Health Day. Plans for the celebration of this day are under way in communities, clubs, schools and homes throughout the country. If you know of such preparation, give your cooperation. If there are no plans, start them.

President Hoover says: "The movement demands that no man or woman who enlisted in this cause last year or this year shall fall behind or fail to enlist others, so that each year the results will double until it has become a national habit, an almost sub-conscious impulse to remember the child wisely, constructively, from the day that parents are born until the day that their children become parents; that is, always."

William Cassidy, advertising manager of the Belfast (Ireland) Telegraph, says:

That the advertisement columns of a newspaper are among the last places where one would look for humor, and yet to the observant eye they yield a rich crop of humor, which is all the more amusing because it is so obviously unconscious. Here is an apology which appeared in an Irish country weekly:

"I, Patrick Rafferty, hereby apologize to Peter O'Rourke for having called him a rogue, a statement I am unable to prove."

Embodied in an auctioneer's advertisement we read: "Twenty-four beds as used in lodging house, also a quantity of corrugated iron sheets."

Sure to be returned: "Left in tramcar parcel containing underwear; owner in fever hospital."

"To Wiggers. Estimates wanted."

What is a wigger?

Then we have: "Wanted an old suit of armor."

"Antique Gents wardrobe for sale, also dirty Doctor's bottles."

"Lost dog with 'ringed' eye."

"Beily" sow for sale."

In an In Memoriam Notice we have read: "Resigned unto the Heavenly Will. His wife keeps the business still."

Also the noble four lines written by Theodor O'Hara, born in Kentucky in 1820:

"In fame's eternal camping ground Their silent tents are spread, And glory guards in solemn round The bivouac of the dead."

These few examples beguile the tedium of an advertising man's day.

Then there is the case of the blackmailer who was caught by a voucher copy—but this is another story.

THOS. JEFFERSON EULOGIZED IN 3 DAYS OF CEREMONY

Radio Will Carry Last Of Tributes To Be Paid Tonight

Charlottesville, Va., April 14—(AP)—Thomas Jefferson, the statesman, will be eulogized tonight by Dr. Ed. win Anderson Alderman, President of the University of Virginia, in a radio address over a nation-wide hookup, concluding the three-day observance of the 177th anniversary of Jefferson's birth.

Yesterday, Jefferson, the crusader for religious freedom, was honored by representatives of three religious and prominent members of two major political parties, while Saturday students at the University of Virginia paid tribute to Jefferson, the educator, at their Founders' Day exercises.

On the porch of Monticello yesterday Senator Clarence C. Dill, Democrat, Washington, and Senator Simon D. Fess, Republican, Ohio, eulogized Jefferson's work for the right of religious worship in the United States, and were followed by a prayer at the grave by Bishop Collins Denny of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Protestant representative and brief remarks by Rabbi Edward N. Calisch, Richmond, representing the Jews, and Rev. John I. Pelcher, Richmond, speaking for the Roman Catholics.

A wreath sent by President Hoover was placed on the monument while flowers were dropped from an airplane circling overhead.

Senator Fess characterized the Virginia statute for religious freedom as "the greatest yearning of the enfranchised human mind that we have in history at this time."

Senator Dill said if a new declaration were to be written under the inspiration of Jefferson's principles, "that new declaration should be a clarion call to a revolution with balloons to prevent our becoming a nation of employees under an oligarchy of money kings."

NEWS of the CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 13.

The Golden Text was, "He called his twelve disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases. And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick" (Luke 9:1, 2).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Fear thou not: for I am with thee; be not dismayed; for I am thy God; I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness" (Isaiah 41:10).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Sin, sickness, and death are to be classified as effects of error. Christ came to destroy the belief of sin. ... God is everywhere, and nothing apart from Him is present or has power" (p. 473).

IMMANUEL LUTHERAN CHURCH

The Little White Church on the Hill Cor. Highland & Sixth A. G. Suechting, Pastor

Yesterday was a Red-Letter Day for our church. It was most assuredly in the words of the sermon, "A Great Day," for all concerned. It was "A Great Day" for Jesus. Yesterday was the 1900th anniversary of "Jesus' Triumphant Entry" into the city of Jerusalem. It was "A Great Day" for the confirmation class of 17 children who pledged their allegiance to Jesus and renewed their baptismal covenant. It was "A Great Day" for the pastor in having the privilege of instructing and confirming the largest class in the history of the church. It was "A Great Day" for the sponsors of these children. They are now relieved and the children have taken the full responsibility of their Christian life upon themselves. It was "A Great Day" for the parents of the members of the class, who were visibly moved in beholding their own flesh and blood kneel at the altar and make the solemn vow. It was also "A Great Day" for the congregation because through the rite of confirmation 17 members have now been received into communicant membership with the church.

The evening service was also very impressive although less formal. The class of 17 children again marched into the church led by the pastor. Each child wore a white carnation. They took their places in front of the altar where they had been confirmed in the morning service. The pastor chose for his theme: "Complete Self-Surrender to Jesus." This Palm Sunday marks the 66th anniversary of Lee's surrender to General Grant at Appomattox, Virginia, which happened on Palm Sunday, April 9, 1865. This is the day for a complete surrender of self to the captain of our faith, Jesus Christ. Let the class, let every Christian cease making "googoo" eyes at the world and let the church as the bride of Christ lead a life of chastity and of purity. The world was put on until General Foch was put in supreme command over infantry, artillery and aviation. Surrender yourself completely to Christ who beckons you to follow Him. Come follow Me, the Savior spake. All, in My way abiding. Take up thy cross, the world forsake. Obey My voice and guiding.

A short memorial service was held in memory of those who knelt at Immanuel's altar and have departed this life. The class marched out again in single file at the conclusion of this great festive confirmation reunion service. Refreshments were served in the basement of the church to all catechumens. The evening was enjoyed by all.

The pastor will organize another confirmation class immediately after Easter. Anyone wishing to join either the adult or children's class may notify the pastor and make the necessary arrangements. Confirmed friends of the church can be received into communicant membership at Easter time by notifying the pastor.

Wednesday at 7:30 P. M. last English Lutheran service.

Friday at 10:30 A. M. German service.

Sunday—English communion at 8:00 A. M.

German communion at 10:40 A. M. Easter program at 7:30 P. M.

To all in our community the church and pastor wish the highest inspiration and spiritual joy in this blessed Easter Season.

ST. PAUL'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH

Please read your Easter folder carefully and notice the time of the Communion; also notice the special baptismal service of Easter Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. Keep in mind the early Easter worship at 6:30 A. M. The boys and girls of the Junior department will sing at the early service.

Part of our Easter celebration is the singing of the beautiful cantata, "The Risen King," (Schnecker), by the choir Easter Sunday night at 7:30.

SPECIAL MEETINGS AT THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Professor and Mrs. Bole and a group of six Wheaton College students are holding a series of special meetings in the Congregational Church. Rev. Mr. Hale of Wheaton is pastor. The group has a quartette of young ladies and give various combinations of vocal and instrumental selections. Mr. Paul Allen of New Jersey is the cornetist.

Besides holding the regular morning and evening meetings of the church, meetings were held in the Hospital and Jail. They will hold a meeting today in the Shoe Factory. Beginning this evening a series of addresses will be given at 7:30 on a lengthwise study of the Bible from Genesis to the Revelation and large chart will be used.

Tomorrow, Tuesday evening, Professor Bole will conclude his experience. He will tell how in a college and two universities, he was taught to believe in organic evolution, destructive biblical criticism, and a materialistic philosophy. And then, when a member of the faculty at the University of Illinois, how he became a Christian.

In his sermon yesterday morning, Professor Bole quoted from Timothy: "In the last days perilous times shall come." He further stated that we are living in "perilous times." The signs of the times everywhere indicate this. What is the explanation of unrest, uncertainty and turmoil over the earth? This and other questions will be answered from the Bible at the evening meetings during the week.

YACHTS TO RACE FOR AMERICA CUP LAUNCHED SUNDAY

Lipton's Challenger Is Slid Into Water In Gosport, England

Gosport, England, April 14—(AP)—Sir Thomas Lipton's yacht Shamrock V, with which he will make his latest attempt for the historic America's Cup, was launched today.

The Countess of Shaftesbury broke a bottle of champagne over the bow of the trim craft as it slid into the water to the accompaniment of ringing cheers of a big crowd in and around the building shed.

With the launching of the Shamrock V, Sir Thomas is resuming a struggle for the famous cup that he began in 1899 with his Shamrock I, which lost to the Columbia. Two years later he tried again with the Shamrock II and again being defeated tried for third time in 1903 with the Shamrock III, this time competing against Reliance. There was a long interval until 1920 before Sir Thomas was in the field again and this time it took seven races before the American yacht Resolute was able to defeat the Shamrock IV.

Sir Thomas challenged for the America's Cup during the summer of 1929 and the New York Yacht Club accepted the challenge. The event will be the best three out of five races, the first of which will be sailed off Newport, R. I., on Sept. 13 of this year.

The first casualty among census takers came when Mrs. Emma Schlorff slammed the door on Mrs. Cora Rosak, the enumerator, and mashed her fingers.

Contender launched Bristol, R. I., April 14—(AP)—The Enterprise, the first of four prospective defenders of the America's Cup to be completed, was launched here today shortly after a similar event had disturbed the other side of the Atlantic at Gosport, England, where Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, the Shamrock V, slid down the ways.

The Enterprise bore the name of a famous little Navy schooner "The Lucky Little Enterprise," which helped bring the Barbary Pirates to terms a century ago. She was designed by W. Starling Burgess for a syndicate of New York yachtmen.

She is smaller than the other three defenders and slightly smaller than Sir Thomas's challenger. The Enterprise is of bronze construction and the Shamrock of wood.

Chicago, April 14—(AP)—Jake Schaeffer is ranked by the National Billiard Association of America as world's best 182 ballline player, with Johnny Layton, Sedalia, Mo., and Ralph Greenleaf of New York, rated similarly at three-cushion and pocket billiards respectively.

At ballline, behind Schaeffer are ranked Welker Cochran, Edouard Ovens, Belgium; Eric Hagelacher, Germany; Will Hoppe, New York; Roger Cont, France; Kinsey Matsuyama, Japan; Felix Grange, France; Edmond Derbyer, France and David McCandless, Chicago.

Walker Resigns As Head State Labor

Springfield, Ill., April 14—(AP)—After serving 15 years as President of the Illinois State Federation of Labor, John H. Walker, newly elected Secretary-Treasurer of the Howard wing of the United Mine Workers of America, has resigned as head of the state labor group.

Walker declared he resigned so he might devote all of his time to the activities of the new mine union which was organized here March 10. The organization seeks to obtain control of the United Mine Workers from John L. Lewis.

The resignation of Walker is effective at the will of the state executive board of the federation.

"Mind Your Business" Man Tells Enumerator

Chicago, April 14—(AP)—To John Sankavich, minding one's own business also applies to the census taker. "I mind my business and you mind yours," Sankavich told Enumerator Archie Hoffman and in vain did Hoffman argue that everybody's business was the government's business.

Police intervention was to no avail and Sankavich was booked on a disorderly charge to appear in court today.

The first casualty among census takers came when Mrs. Emma Schlorff slammed the door on Mrs. Cora Rosak, the enumerator, and mashed her fingers.

SIGNING THREE- POWER PACT TO BE HURRIED UP

Naval Agreement To Be Signed By Delegates Week From Tuesday

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press Staff Writer
London, April 14—(AP)—One week from tomorrow, barring mishaps, representatives of the five great naval powers will sign the document which will mark the success and failure of their hopes here to reach agreement on a treaty limiting and reducing all classes of naval craft.

At a plenary session of the conference in Queen Anne's drawing room, St. James's Palace this noon, Prime Minister MacDonald, officiating as general chairman of the conference, announced the ceremony for that date, qualifying the announcement with the words "I hope it will, I hope it will."

His announcement was the principal development in the whirlwind session, the first complete meeting of the conference since February 11.

It originally was planned to try to get the treaty drawn up so that it could be signed next Thursday, but the Prime Minister announced that this was an impossible achievement.

As it is it will be race against time for the drafters to get the document ready for the meeting Tuesday, so that the Americans may catch the Leviathan immediately afterward for New York and home.

Three-Power Pact

The treaty to be signed will be a three-power agreement between Japan, America and Great Britain, covering limitation and reduction of naval craft, and agreement between the five powers, France and Italy included, on such points as humanization of submarines and capital ship holiday. Important French-Italian limitation differences are left unsettled subject to subsequent negotiations, and there will be a clause allowing any of the three powers signing the limitation section to depart from its terms if the building of a non-signatory nation endangers it.

Today's plenary session lasted only 24 minutes, and was merely for the purpose of getting final formal approval of committee reports, which constitute the "raw" material for the treaty itself. Mr. MacDonald, an old parliamentarian, wasted no time but rushed the business so fast that at times he and the official interpreter fell over each other's words.

The American delegation was jubilant over the prospect of being able to catch the Leviathan next Tuesday or thereafter for their homeward trip after more than three months away from the United States.

Veteran Actor Has Serious Operation

New York, April 14—(AP)—The condition of David Warfield, veteran actor, was described by his surgeon today as "very satisfactory" after an operation at Post Graduate hospital.

Mr. Warfield, who is 63 years old, has been at the hospital three weeks and underwent a "rather serious" operation, the surgeon, Dr. Rohn D. Stewart said. The nature of the actor's illness was not disclosed, but Dr. Stewart said, "in fact, for a man of his age, his condition is very satisfactory."

Previously it had been reported that the actor had undergone three operations and that he was critically ill.

Relatives in San Francisco said they had received a telegram summoning them to Mr. Warfield's bedside, but Dr. Stewart said he knew nothing about such a message.

Three Babies Found Tied To Furniture

Oakland, Cal., April 12—(UP)—Three babies, one of them cruelly bruised from a beating, were found tied to furniture in an otherwise vacant house by Oakland police today.

The eldest, a girl of 3, bore deep cuts on her wrists from ropes which had been used to bind her to a chair. Her ankles were also tied.

The other infants, 2 and 1, the elder also showing marks of a severe beating, were tied to a crib.

... the war against Spitting is a crusade of decency ... join it. Smoke CERTIFIED CREMO!

He tried to "get away" ... but they caught him in the act. Smoke Certified Cremo and protect yourself against this abomination! Every tobacco leaf entering the clean, sunny Certified Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture. And its purity is safeguarded along every step of the way by amazing inventions that foil, wrap and tip the cigars without the possibility of spit!

House of Tudor Design Distinctive in Appearance With Well-Planned Interior

THE FAMILY who desire a home of novel and distinctive architecture yet comfortable and conveniently arranged will be interested in the Grixdale which is illustrated here.

Here is a dwelling that has all of the charm of the Tudor design. Its half timber and stucco walls are in keeping with modern tendencies. The floor layouts are strictly up to the minute.

The man who wants his garage attached to the house will be pleased with the Grixdale for this convenience has been embodied in its plans. The garage is situated at the rear and is not in evidence from the front. Not only is the Grixdale well arranged but it contains many of those modern touches that appeal to the family. Closets—the desire of every housewife—are provided in abundance. Electrical outlets are found in each room and side wall brackets for lighting prove both practical and ornamental.

Not An Expensive House
All of these conveniences are secured in this attractive dwelling of five rooms: bath and attached garage for a sum that the average man can afford. The exact cost of the structure depends on a number of factors, yet this is a home worthy of being considered by the family who are paying $50.00 or more monthly as rent.

Best of all, this dwelling has been constructed and proven its worth under actual living conditions. It is not an untried house but one that has eminently met the requirements of an exacting household.

Pleasing Exterior Treatment
The stucco walls of the building have been finished with an expressive decorative design, showing in the texture of the material swirls and whorls which give the usual deadness of grey-white stucco.

The front entrance door is severely plain, containing six little panes of glass to form a "peekhole." The stoop is of flagstones. There is no shelter overhead, a heavy beam forming a head and relieving the plainness that would otherwise ensue.

Within the door is a small vestibule with a large closet for storing overcoats, rubbers, umbrellas and the like.

Spacious Living Room
The ample living room which one enters through the vestibule contains a fireplace of unusual attractiveness. The hearth is made of flagstones. Blocks of native stone are used on the face of the fireplace. Instead of a broad mantel a narrow moulding defines its upper limits.

Handsome electric light brackets flank each side of the fireplace as well as the plaster arch which separates the living room from the dining room.

At one end of the living room is the staircase leading to the floor above.

The living room is well lighted by casement windows which may be flung open during the hot summer days, thereby catching any air that is stirring. The splendor muntin bars and small rectangular panes lend a pleasant aspect to the vista seen through the casements.

Built-in Features
One of the features of the cozy little dining room which faces the front of the house is the built-in cupboard, handily placed in two corners of the room near the swinging door leading to the kitchen. These cabinets are ample enough to hold the dishes, silver and glassware of the family.

Another door leads to the pleasant side porch, the roof of which was formed by continuing the roof of the house down and out in a graceful curve.

Behind the dining room is the kitchen, a well arranged little room with two pantry cases, large enough to hold the kitchen utensils. A recess in the back wall contains the ice-box which is provided with an icing door in the wall so that the ice man can deliver ice without entering the kitchen—a decided convenience in stormy weather when otherwise he would track in mud and water.

The service entry has a door leading into the garage which holds one car. The floor of the garage is concrete and a drain is provided for waste water. A ramp of easy incline leads from the garage floor to the concrete drive outside.

Plenty of Closet Space
On the second floor are two chambers, each of which contain two closets. Cross ventilation is afforded each room by placing windows on two sides. These windows are also of the casement type, the ventilator leaves swinging outward. Side wall lighting fixtures and outlet plugs are also found in each of these sleeping rooms.

Off the hall on the second floor is an open deck, guarded by a hand railing. This makes a convenient lounging place and could be satisfactorily used as a sleeping porch on hot summer nights. The bathroom is so placed that it is but a step from the bedrooms. Here is located built-in tub and a small closet for towels and linens. The medicine cabinet is lighted by two wall lights, located one on each side of the cabinet.

Basement Well Arranged
Below in the basement is the heating room with the coal bin adjacent. The heater is of the warm air type, so located that the air ducts are short. Comfort is assured the home owner.

The laundry is walled off from the rest of the cellar so that flying coal and ash dust does not gather on the clothes that may be hung in the room. A heavy batten door provides entrance to this room.

Off the laundry is a small fruit cellar where canned fruits, preserves and jellies may be stored for winter use.

FINDING THE RIGHT LOT TO BUY INVOLVES MANY IMPORTANT FACTORS—CHOOSE CAREFULLY

If the starting of a savings account toward the purchase of a new home is the first step then the selection of the lot upon which the dwelling is to be placed ranks equal in importance.

The factors which enter into the selection of the family's future home are many. One thing a man must remember when buying a lot is that the home to be placed thereon will be the center of his activities for a good many years. He must choose, remembering that for the next ten or fifteen years and possibly longer, he and his family will live in that spot.

If this fact is kept to the fore when the selection is being made, a number of vital considerations will be kept in mind.

Must Buy With Income in Mind
The lot must be selected with land values that are commensurate with the pocket book of the family. The income of the wage earner will determine to a large extent the price that can be paid for the lot. If he is making a good salary or wage, he can afford to pay more than if his income is low.

Usually the price of a lot is determined by its location with reference to the main section of the city. If the lot is in a built-up neighborhood where transportation is good, all improvements are made, and stores are convenient, it is more costly than the lot on the edge of town. Sometimes a small lot may be found conveniently located; then the problem is the decision whether one in an outlying district, whether the increased light and air is more desirable than the central location.

Often the lots on the edge of town are lacking in some of the improvements—water, paving, sidewalks, street lighting, electricity or gas. If these must be installed later, the additional expense must be considered.

How Are Transportation Facilities?
The location of the new home should be convenient to that part of the city where the members of the family are most likely to be employed.

Transportation to and from work is a factor to be considered. It must be rapid, convenient and sure. If the family own a motor car and are not dependant on a bus line or trolley car, then the roads must be good so that the daily journey to and from work can be made without delays and inconveniences.

Neighborhood Must Be Suitable
Consider also the character of the neighborhood in which the lot is located. The families living in the neighborhood must be congenial in respect to social pretensions, education, religion, race and nationality.

No matter how satisfactory the lot may be from the financial or transportation standpoint, if the character of the families dwelling in the vicinity of the lot are not in harmony with the family's ideas of what is right and proper, then it is better for that family to search farther for a lot.

One nationality may dominate a neighborhood. They have their own little peculiarities that express their type of life and thought. If the family contemplating the purchase of a lot are not in accord, they will not be happy in the neighborhood and had better seek a district where they are at home. Otherwise, their investment may not prove to be a profitable one.

This is especially true where there are children in the family, for the children must be brought up in the right kind of surroundings.

Restrictions on the Lot
Before laying down your hard earned savings, examine carefully into the laws surrounding the property to see if there are any restrictions on the lot itself or the district.

If a city is zoned, it is always safest to build in a residential district where there is safety from intrusion of business enterprises. The erection of a glue factory, a public garage or an iron foundry would depreciate the value of the home site.

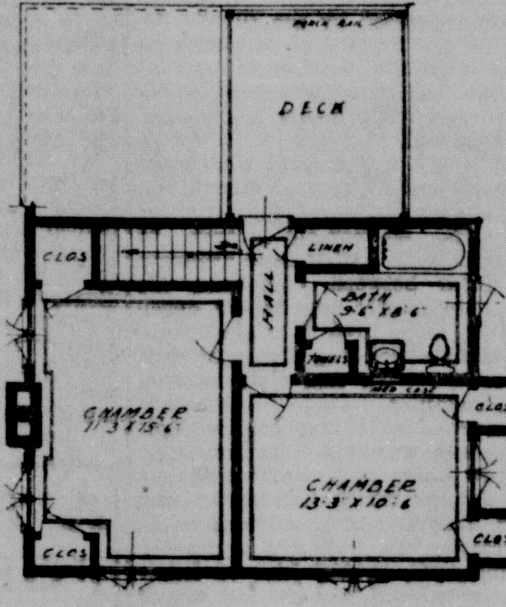

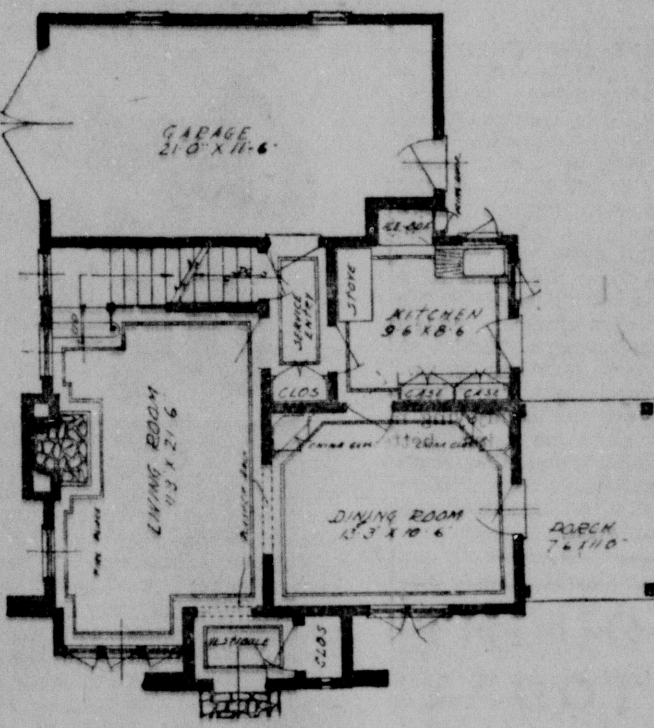

work to your detriment. Or there may be restrictive clauses in the deeds of other lots on the street or in the block. Your lot or block may be restricted while across the street objectionable buildings may be erected.

Often the deeds state that only a house of a certain minimum value may be erected on the lot. Can the family afford to erect a house of this minimum value?

Find out also if the restrictions are perpetual or for the duration of a certain number of years. The restrictions that protect you should be in force for the length of time that you propose to live in the district or otherwise you may be left unprotected.

How Far Away is the School?
When there are children in the family it is well to purchase a lot with their requirements in mind. The school should be located within easy walking distance. And there must be no dangerous streets or boulevards to cross.

Playgrounds also should be convenient for play is the rightful requisite of every child and it should not be withdrawn because the mother cannot supervise because of through household cares. If no parks or playground is available, the lot must be large enough so that the children can play at home.

BASEBALL MANAGERS' VIEWS
(By The Associated Press)

Although the reaction in some places will be different later on, there is not a down-hearted manager in either major league as the baseball season opens. Not all the leaders of the clubs think they have a chance to win but hope springs eternal before the base-hits begin to rattle in earnest and, with an exception here and there, the pilots expect their clubs to do better than was the case last season. The champions, of course, can not improve their positions but they expect to be as good as they were.

Connie Mack has declined to make a forecast for the Athletics but he believes his great team will repeat.

Joe McCarthy, with reservations, picks the Cubs to lead the pack again.

The managers speak:
AMERICAN LEAGUE
Connie Mack, Athletics—"The Athletics are not claiming a pennant because we realize every team has strengthened and we look forward to a close race."

Bob Shawkey, Yankees—"Expect the Yankees to be in the race for we have added strength in new players and I have no fear about our pitching."

Stanley Harris, Tigers—"It would be foolish to claim a championship, for no sane man can discount the strength of the Athletics and Yankees but I believe Detroit will be in the race. We are much better than we were at this time last season."

Roger Peckinpaugh, Indians—"We may have been lucky to finish third last year as some say but we have a good ball club and I am hopeful we can cause a great deal of trouble for the other clubs."

Bill Killefer, Browns—"It is true that we haven't as much punch as I would like to see but we have good pitchers and a lot of hustling, young players. We should do well."

Walter Johnson, Senators—"I am sure Washington will have a hustling ball club, with good spirit and punching and I am confident it will make a better record than in 1929."

Donie Bush, White Sox—"No one can question the fact that the White Sox are a stronger club. Hitting of course will decide our place at the finish but at any rate we shape up better than seventh."

Heine Wagner, Red Sox—"Our team looks better now than it has at anytime during the four years I have been connected with it. The players will hustle and I am hopeful of results."

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Joe McCarthy, Cubs—"Additional strength leads me to believe the Cubs will repeat and barring accidents and breaks that are unforeseen, the Cubs will come down to the finish a winner."

Jewel Ens, Pirates—"I see every reason for being optimistic and with a fine array of hitters combined with youth and speed, the Pittsburgh team ought to be up there in the race, provided our players do not meet with too many injuries."

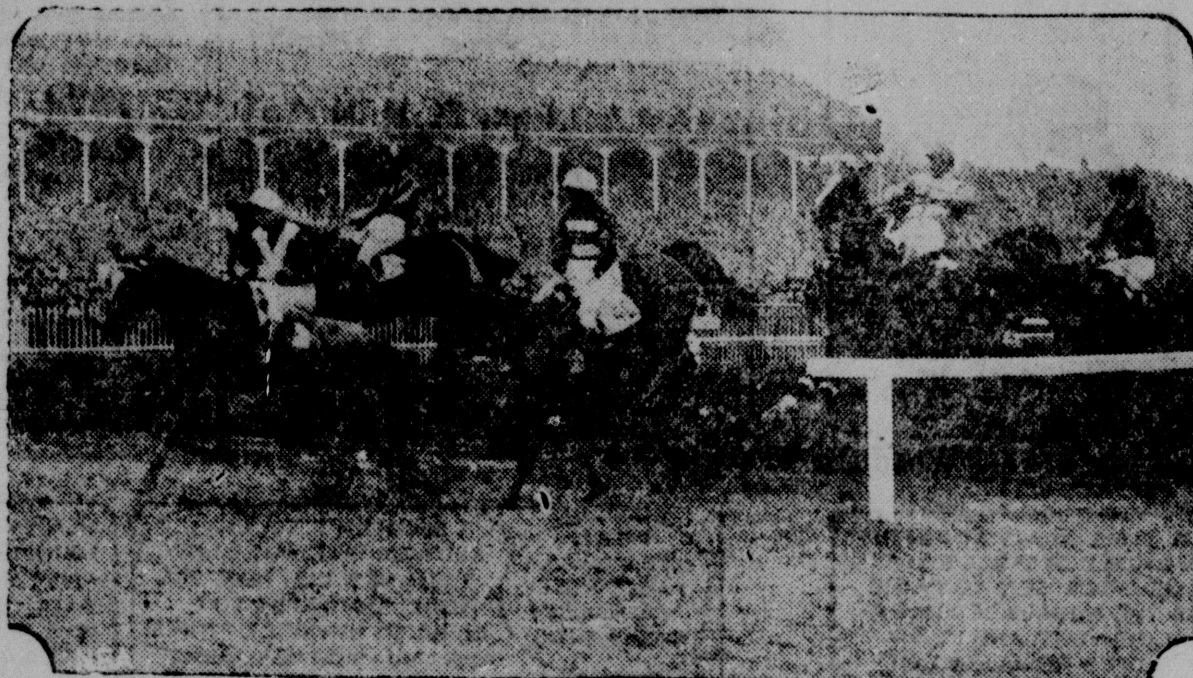

John J. McGraw, Giants—"We are cheerful as we prepare to open the season. Marshall will prove a good second baseman for us and the improvement in Ott's play is one of the most striking things I have seen in baseball."

Gabby Street, Cardinals—"I am not saying that we will win the pennant but we have a good team and will figure in the race. I expect to see our pitchers do some great work."

Burt Shotton, Phillies—"I expect my club to finish in the first division and if we don't get up there, the second division will be much stronger than I expect it to be."

Wilbert Robinson, Robins—"Brooklyn has been tremendously improved over last year's club and I will be very much surprised and disappointed if we are not in the thick of the

Dan Howley, Reds—"The Reds are quite a bit stronger than last year I believe and we all look forward to a real try for the first division. Given good pitching we will surprise the fans of Cincinnati."

Washington, April 14—(AP)—Herbert Hoover, who in addition to being President of the United States is an enthusiastic baseball fan, limbered up his throwing arm today for his annual big league assignment of tossing out the first ball of the season's first game.

There was a big blank space in his usually crowded engagement list, for when the Chief Executive goes to a ball game he likes to stay until the end, and usually does. The situation was complicated today, however, by a slight cold, which kept the President indoors over the week end, and which, with bad weather, might force him to return to the White House after a few innings.

On the corresponding occasion last year, the President surprised the stands with the accuracy and speed of his throw. His liking for the national pastime was attested by a trip to Philadelphia in October to see one of the World Series games between the Athletics and the Chicago Cubs.

The Washington club ended its training season impressively and this brightened Manager Walter Johnson's hope that the end of the season would find it in the first division. The Nationals, after a good deal of floundering in early games finished fifth last year, Johnson's first as manager.

The Boston club, generally selected to finish last, presented two new faces in the opening lineup. Bill Sweeney, formerly with Detroit, had the call at first base, and Tom Oliver, former Southern Leaguer, won the center field assignment.

THE CALL OF THE OUTDOORS

POLLUTION VERSUS HEALTH

The clearing of our lakes and streams of pollution will have much to do towards fishing conditions of the future. Game fish cannot thrive successfully in unhealthy waters and every precaution should be practiced to make the waters clear and sanitary.

Few rivers located close to a large city or in a community that is thickly populated do not have to fight pollution. The vast amount of poison liquids thrown into waters by some manufacturing plants results in spoiling the fishing conditions as well as endangering public health. If fish cannot thrive in a polluted river, it's a ten to one shot that a human being cannot ward off disease from drinking the water or swimming in its filthy liquid.

In 1927 the Isaak Walton League of America inaugurated the first real nationwide anti-pollution campaign, resulting in a program of water purification far greater than every before attempted. Since that time many important rivers and other inland waters of the country have been cleared of pollution and restored to their natural state.

Elimination of pollution is not a selfish motive of the fisherman. The sport obtained with rod and reel, of course, holds a very warm reception in the heart of all anglers, but beyond this we see health and beautification of nature. With clean waters comes more vegetation on the banks of the lake or stream, which in turn attracts song and game birds and wildlife. With these cheery representatives of nature in evidence, the populace of the community is granted the privilege of enjoying nature all the more, bringing better health and happiness to the community in general.

Pollution is often the direct cause of epidemics. By drinking the vile waters people contract disease. Health cannot thrive in the neighborhood of a polluted river. If there is polluted waters in your vicinity, start activities to clear it up immediately. It will mean a more beautiful and healthier community in which to live.

Boxer Breaks Hand In Defense of $9

Chicago, April 14—(AP)—It has cost Pete Wistort, Chicago heavy-weight boxer, a fractured left hand and several opportunities to engage in his business, to save $9 from a holdup man.

Wistort, who has been out of action several months following injuries to the same left hand, was accosted last night by a man with a gun. Wistort thought of his nine bucks and promptly let the holdup man have both fists to the head.

He scored a knockout, grabbed the pistol, left the man lying on the sidewalk, and hurried home to discover the left hand had crumpled. Now he is wondering if the $9 will last until he can fight again.

CUBS, ATHLETICS PICKED TO LAND SECOND SERIES

Baseball Writers Dope Them To Repeat In Coming Season

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 14—(UP)—The Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago Cubs are again picked to win the major league pennant races in the annual United Press poll.

The Athletics are overwhelming favorites to win the American League pennant, while the Cubs are selected to capture the National League flag after a close race.

Sixteen major league baseball writers, one from each city contributed their predictions. The Athletics were selected by every American League contributor, while seven out of eight National League writers picked the Cubs. The Pirates were picked to nose out the Cubs by the Pittsburgh writer.

The composite selections follow:
American League
1—Philadelphia
2—New York
3—Cleveland
4—St. Louis
5—Detroit
6—Chicago
7—Washington
8—Boston

National League
Chicago
Pittsburgh
New York
St. Louis
Brooklyn
Philadelphia
Cincinnati
Boston

Second Place Vote
The votes for second place in the National were: Pittsburgh 5 votes; New York 1; St. Louis 1; Chicago 1.

The Athletics are unbeatable was the consensus of the American League doers. Oddly enough the Philadelphia writer had more fears for the Athletics than any other contributor.

"The race will be much closer than last year when the Athletics won by 18 games," he said. "The Yankees will be dangerous if they get the pitching. The St. Louis Browns have a great manager in Bill Killefer and will always be near the top. The Chicago White Sox will be the surprise club of the league. The Athletics, however, are better fortified with reserves and have more confidence in themselves than last year."

The battle in the American League seems to revolve around second place, with four, and perhaps five clubs picked as contenders for the runner-up position.

A New York writer thinks the Yankers are receding, but still able to fight off the Indians who he believes will not duplicate last year's pace.

Indians Improved
On the other hand, the Cleveland writer said a stronger infield will make the Indians more dangerous and quite capable of beating out the Yankees for second place.

"Cleveland lost a dozen games last year because of bad defensive play in the infield," he said. "The Indians' infield is much better and the pitching is as good as last year and the outfield greatly improved."

Five of the eight American League writers think the White Sox, under the driving leadership of Donie Bush, will stir up plenty of trouble. The Boston contributor, however, picks the White Sox to land in the cellar.

The majority of National League critics predict trouble for the Cubs unless Rogers Hornsby is in good shape physically and able to play at top speed all year.

Anything may happen in the National League race if Hornsby is kept out of the lineup any length of time by his injured heel, the St. Louis writer predicted.

One Picks Pirates
In picking the Pirates to win, the Pittsburgh scribe said: "Injuries alone prevented the Pirates from from winning last year. They have one of the greatest outfields in baseball and the infield is improved by Gus Suhr."

The Philadelphia contributor believes that the Pirates' pennant chances have been ruined by the trading of Burleigh Grimes to the Boston Braves.

Opinion on the Cardinals is scattered, and they have been picked to finish in every place except first and last.

The Giants are not regarded as serious contenders. Most writers think they will be lucky to land third.

"In picking the Giants for fourth I am paying McGraw a big compliment," said the St. Louis doer.

Brooklyn and Cincinnati are expected to be the dark horses of the National League race. The Reds were awarded two first division voters, but the New York and Boston writers relegated the Reds to the cellar.

"Cincinnati has too many discards and veterans to get any place," predicted the Boston contributor.

The Cincinnati contributor picks the Reds and Giants as the two teams to watch and says either or both may be battling down the home stretch for the flag.

"Brooklyn looks like the most improved team in the league and will be hard to stop," the Philadelphia writer said.

Chicago, April 14—(AP)—Nearly 300 amateur wrestlers have entered the midwest diamond medal tournament which opens tomorrow night at the Coliseum.

Kills Girl's Mother, Then Her and Himself

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Apr. 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Thomas Campbell, 40, her daughter, Millie, 15, and Andrew Simons, 24, were found dead of gunshot wounds on the Campbell farm, near Hilton Beach, St. Joe Island, today.
Provincial police said Simons apparently had killed the mother and her daughter and committed suicide. He lived with his mother on another farm two miles away, and had been courting the Campbell girl, police said, for nearly a year.

WISCONSIN BOY COMPLETES HIGH SCHOOL IN YEAR

Ambitious Youth Will Enter University After Hasty Preparation

Menawa, Wis.—When Joseph McCarthy, 21, graduates from high school here in June he will have performed the unusual feat of being a freshman, sophomore, junior and senior all in one year.
Although Joseph entered the school only last fall as a freshman, after graduation from a rural school six years ago, he will enter college next fall with all the credits of a student who has spent four years covering the high school work.
Joseph spent the six years following his graduation from grammar school working to earn enough money to go to college. "When I saw the age differences between the freshmen and myself I decided to get it over quickly," he said.
At first the principal of the high school refused to let him take six subjects the first semester, feeling that the boy could not carry them successfully. But by studying until nearly midnight every night he managed to pass them all satisfactorily and now he has to accumulate only 13 credits in the remaining semester.
The faculty members of the school have become so interested in the ambitious youth that they have readily devoted part of their time to his needs outside of class hours in order to help him.

In the fall he will enter either Marquette University or the University of Wisconsin to study electrical engineering.

Three Found Dead On So. Dakota Farm

Hoven, S. D., April 12.—(AP)—Three persons were found dead on a farm near here last night, evidently the victims of a double murder and suicide.
The dead: Joseph G. Miller; John P. Miller; Gertrude Mary Miller.
Frank Stait, State's Attorney, said he believed John Miller killed his brother and sister and then committed suicide. He said he believed the killings occurred last Tuesday or Wednesday as all the newspapers from April 8 until yesterday were still in the mail box.
Neighbors found Joseph's body under the dining room table. Gertrude's body was beneath a living room window. John's body was found hanging from a rafter in the granary.
